3.5 Claim

- A ERV is the representative of Helvetia Swiss Insurance Company Ltd for the present liability insurance and issues the policies in its name and checks any claims for cover. All communications in connection with the present insurance contract should therefore be addressed to ERV. In the event of a loss which is likely to have consequences relevant to the insurance policy or in the event of liability claims being brought against the insured, the insured shall be obliged to notify ERV without delay. In addition to the documents specified under par. 1.8 C, notifications must also be accompanied by a copy of the motor vehicle liability policy of the rental vehicle and the relevant contact details.
- B ERV is authorised by the insured to obtain additional information from all insurance companies. The insured releases insurance companies, central information systems belonging to insurance companies and other associated parties from their duty of confidentiality and grants them the authority to provide ERV or Helvetia with any information relating to the implementation of the insurance contract.
- C Helvetia reserves the right to appoint, on behalf of the insured, a defence counsel or lawyer, to whom the insured must grant power of attorney. Helvetia will conduct binding negotiations with the injured party, at its discretion either as the representative of the insured or in its own name.
- D Helvetia's settlement of the injured party's claims is binding on the insured in all cases. The insured is obliged to support Helvetia in determining the facts of the matter and to refrain from taking any separate position on the injured party's claims (contractual fidelity). In particular, the insured may not recognise liability claims or remit any payments to injured parties or assign claims under this insurance contract to injured parties or to third parties and will moreover leave the conduct of any civil litigation to Helvetia.
